

DARIO D'ATTIS

BIOGRAPHIE

A person who reflects his passion for music and his feelings in his productions!

Since he was a child and he heard his father playing drums (for the Italian band „Camaleonti“) he loved the music and his father became his idol!

As a teenager Dario was attracted by the Garage & New Jersey House sound (specially the one played by DJs Djaimin (Colour 3) & Tony Humpries (Kiss FM radio) in fact these radio shows gave him more energy & love for the music

He bought his first vinyl at the age of 15 and one year later he started his DJ career in his city Schaffhausen playing in clubs & bars like the „Kaktus“ where he had a great time!

In 1997 he built up the successful party series „Amaro“ with 2 friends in several locations of his city and a bit later he started playing all over Switzerland and was recognized as a very charming DJ and started playing for the first time @ Club Oxa in Zurich too

At that time he had also a radio show „Dancemachine“ together with a local DJ (Agroovin) where they invited national & international guests

Today Dario is recognized as a successful DJ and his playing all over Switzerland with big names like:

- Mousse T,
- Bob Sinclar,

To be a producer was always one of his dreams and in 1999 this dream became true when he did his first production „lift me up“ together with DJ Agroovin released by a small Swiss label, then in 2002 he remixed for Purple Music „Now or never“ by Sound of Joy.

At the moment he is working in his own recording studio named – Digital Funk Productions

Recently he produced with Roberto de Carlo the song „Freedom“ with Inaya Day vocals and in January 2005 „Skunk“ aka The Funk Ensemble will see the light on Purple Tracks

He has already other big projects in with Sabrynaah Pope, Freda Goodlett and remixes for Michelle Weeks, Mankz, Jordan Fields, Matteo Ionescu, MOD etc. so be aware to these names Dario D'Attis or The Funk Ensemble
